Helps You Get On Target Fast & Improves Recoil Control; Folds Away For Storage

Fold-away vertical grip clamps to any forend with a bottom accessory rail and provides a comfortable platform for the support hand to improve control. Makes weapon easier to point to help you get on target—or change targets—fast. Pronounced finger grooves, textured surface, and a hand-filling shape help you maintain steady downward force to counteract muzzle rise during rapid fire. Hit the pushbutton on the left side of the grip to change between five locking positions: vertical, 45° forward/rearward, or folded forward/backward parallel with the handguard for storage or carry. Constructed of lightweight, yet robust, fiberglass-reinforced molded nylon to stand up to hard use; slides over Picatinny forend rail and locks in place with a steel crossbolt for solid, wobble-free installation.
