Provides Secure Bipod Attachment For Railed Handguards

Low-profile adapter clamps solidly to any Picatinny rail handguard to provide a secure mounting point for bipods that attach to sling swivel studs. Increases your accessory mounting options without making permanent alterations to gun. Stud and base are precision machined from a single billet of high-grade 6061 T6 aluminum for maximum strength to handle the rigors of tactical deployment. Two robust cross-bolts and oversized, slotted hex nuts of heat-treated 4140 carbon steel lock the full-contact clamping bar tightly to the rail, and ensure the mount won't shift position even under heavy recoil. Also accepts a standard quick-release sling swivel, for rapid transition from bipod operation to sling use.
