Low-Profile, Ergonomically-Enhanced Grip Increases Weapon Control

Developed with input from combat veterans, this lightweight, low-profile grip helps the operator maintain greater control of the rifle regardless of firing position. Helps the shooter achieve a comfortable grip, with a natural placement of the fingers, a pronounced hand stop at the rear, and an anti-slip textured surface that keeps the hand in place, even when wet. The ridged front face lets the shooter brace the rifle against barricades, ledges, or other available support surfaces, creating a dependable shooting platform without worrying about slippage. Mounts easily and securely to Picatinny handguard rail with a super-stable, wobble-free, friction lock. Minimal bulk: extends only 1" below handguard. Molded hard polymer construction delivers strength without a weight penalty.
