Getting that first round into the chamber from your magazine with ease requires a charging handle that's intuitive and easy to use in any situation, and the Mission First Tactical AR-15 E-VOLV Oversized Charging Handle Latch makes getting your AR into operation easier than ever. The latch attaches to any standard AR charging handle, taking only minutes to swap out, and provides a larger manipulation surface than other options on the market. Users must provide a mil-spec charging handle for the upgrade.
