Quick Deployment Rifle Sling

The Magpul Rifleman Sling (RLS) is a simplified two-point sling. The Magpul RLS is designed for rapid deployment. The forward loop provides traditional shooting sling functionality, while also combining some of the best aspects of Rhodesian style and 1907 match style slings. The Magpul RLS features lightweight, durable polymer hardware that securely lock the forward loop in any desired position, while the sling keeper adjusts the effective size of the loop or locks it in place on the shooter's support arm. Magpul's proprietary weave 1-1/4" wide nylon webbing material for strength and wear resistance. Low-profile, lightweight and durable fasteners and hardware made from Magpul polymer. Compatible with Magpul® sling adapters and accessories, or any other 1.25" sling attachments (sold separately). Colored webbing has Near Infrared (NIR) treatment to reduce IR signature. Available in black and coyote brown. When the forward loop is not employed, the RLS functions as a simple carrying strap. Minimum weight and bulk with maximum functionality, all at a great price.
