Offers a Back-Up Aiming Option

Even with the exploding popularity of magnified and electronic optics topping AR-15 rifles today, rifle owners can't go wrong with having a dedicated pair of iron sights on their rifle, just in case. The Midwest Industries AR-15 Combat Folding Front Sight provides a dedicated aiming point for rifle owners. The Midwest Industries AR-15 Combat Folding Front Sight is constructed from a combination of high-strength steel and 6061 aluminum to ensure strength and durability where it counts without adding unnecessary weight. The front-sight post meets mil-spec height requirements when deployed but folds down into compact 0.437-inch dimensions when stored. Color: black Stays secured with dual-locking detent springs 1.5 MOA per click adjustment Installs with torque-clamp screw at 35 inch-pounds Compatible with all A2-style front sight posts, the Midwest Industries AR-15 Combat Folding Front Sight is made completely in the USA.
