Adapt Your M-LOK Rifle for RRS/ARCA Interface

Among today's precision-rifle shooters, a popular new interface method for attaching bipods and other accessories is based on the ARCA-Swiss system standardized by RRS. To adapt these RRS/ARCA mounting systems on M-LOK handguard, there's a new Magpul M-LOK Dovetail Adapter on the market. The Dovetail Adapter is compatible with all standard RRS Dovetails and provides a direct-attachment point to all M-LOK handguards. The adapter is machined from aluminum and treated with a hard-coat anodized finish for added durability. During the machining process, the edges are beveled to reduce the chances of snagging. 2-Slot length: 3.15 inches 4-Slot length: 7.75 inches Pro Chassis length: 13.25 Width: 1.50 inches Height: 0.20 inch Designed and built in the USA Each Magpul M-LOK Dovetail Adapter is also drilled and tapped in different locations for the attachment of hardware, providing reference points for shooters as well as limiting overtravel. This dovetail adapter fills two M-LOK slots on a handguard. The Pro Chassis Adapter also comes with a unique cutout that allows owners of Magpul's Pro 700 chassis to remove their front action screw without having to remove this interface.
