Sight Right With Your BRN-22 Receiver

If you've picked up one of Brownells' BRN-22 receivers, based on the popular Ruger 10/22, then the company's Rear Sight & Rail combination is a must-have. This new product supports not only the Brownells-exclusive BRN-22 but will also fit all factory Ruger 10/22 rifles without any modification required. Each Brownells BRN-22 Rear Sight & Rail is machined from 6061-T6 billet aluminum and is finished with a Type 3 hardcoat anodizing. The benefit of this sight arrangement is that it's similar to the military-style sight pictures used on the AR-15. All standard, A1-style adjustments come with this sight system, and the sight includes an A2-style aperture. Consumers will also find that the rear sight on the Brownells BRN-22 Rear Sight & Rail features 10 different windage positions, each offering fine-tuned adjustment for exact aiming. The rear sight ships with four Torx screws needed for mounting.
