An Enhanced Optics Rail for Your CZ 457

Building on the success of the company's CZ 455 scope base, Area 419 aimed to produce the best-possible scope base for the popular CZ 457 rimfire rifle, one of the popular options for today's precision-rimfire competitions. The Area 419 CZ 457 1913 Improved Scope Rail includes a bubble level that ensures the rifle platform is absolutely level when pushing rimfire rounds out to the limits of the cartridge. Each Area 419 CZ 457 1913 Improved Scope Rail is machined from T7075 aluminum, using the company's in-house Haas 4-axis machining center, and the clamping system on the rail locks down with consistent force along the entire length of the rail for security and repeatability. The rail features 30 MOA of built-in elevation, and a 15-MOA rail is also available. Other highlights of the Area 419 CZ 457 1913 Improved Scope Rail include an increased length that allows users to push their optics farther forward on the rail for better eye relief. The built-in level can be easily seen at the rear of the rail without removing your head from the stock for a shot.
