As competition shooters look for ways to enhance their game and gain an edge over other competitors, they're looking increasingly at option to enhance the ergonomics of their rifle for fast shooting without any fatigue. Anarchy Outdoors developed its Penguin Precision Rifle Grip to provide PRS shooters with a grip that allows for fast, repeatable action on the gun for great consistency. The Anarchy Outdoors Penguin Precision Rifle Grip was developed over the course of several years by a 3rd Ranger Battalion special-operations soldier, along with help from several federal law-enforcement agents. The grip is designed for use on any AR-style chassis equipped with a 45-degree safety selector. The grip ensures that shooters have the capability to solidly mount and fire their gun accurately in a variety of awkward shooting positions. Each Penguin Precision Rifle Grip is designed specifically to ensure direct alignment of the trigger finger and includes a thumb rest that enhances comfort and reduces fatigue. The grips are made from Nylon 12, weigh 4 ounces each and are made in the USA by military veterans.
