At a glance: Dual action release allows push or pull to release mag Extended lever for fast magazine changes Fits any standard Ruger® 10/22®, 10/22® Takedown® or 22 Charger™ The stock magazine release for the Ruger® 10/22® rifle is small and can be tough to find by feel alone, significantly slowing down magazine changes. For rimfire competition shooters, a slow magazine change can have a significant impact on a string. For junior shooters or anyone with smaller hands, finding and reaching the magazine release often means moving your hands from shooting position and potentially turning the gun in an unsafe direction. Stop struggling with magazine changes in your 10/22®! The new "Fireswitch" Extended Magazine Release by Rim/Edge makes magazine changes easier. The "Fireswitch" features a cutting edge dual action lever, which allows the shooter to pull back or push forward to drop magazines. The release is longer than the stock release lever, putting it in reach for all users. Upgrade your Ruger® 10/22® with a Rim/Edge "Fireswitch" Extended Magazine Release and find your competitive edge! Supported Models: Any standard Ruger® 10/22®, 10/22® Takedown® or 22 Charger™ Thompson Center T/CR 22
