Lightest, Securest, Lowest-Profile RMR Shotgun Mount

Tough as a tank, yet nowhere near as bulky and extremely lightweight, the Scalarworks Sync RMR Mount is a solid platform for anchoring a Trijicon RMR red dot sight firmly to your shotgun's receiver. It's also engineered to sit at the right height for co-witnessing with iron sights. The Sync RMR Mount attaches to your shotgun using four screws and Scalarworks proprietary internal key-slot system. This spreads the recoil force over a larger area to help ensure the RMR doesn't shift. The Sync's water-tight mounting platform does not require a sealing plate between it and the battery compartment on the underside of the RMR. Ultra-light - weighs only 0.7 oz. 7075 T6 aluminum (far stronger than standard 6061 alloy) Black Mil-A-8625 Type III hardcoat anodized finish 4140H steel screws with Black Nitride finish Models for Benelli and Mossberg shotguns Fits the pre-drilled factory receiver optic mount holes The Scalarworks Sync RMR mount fits the following Trijicon RMR sights: RM01, RM02, RM03, RM04, RM05, RM06, RM07, RM08, RM09
