A Lightweight PRS Stock for Your Carry-Ready Rifle

Magpul's PRS GEN3 adjustable stock brought a ton of benefit to the precision-shooting world, but the added weight of the stock made it a bit much for those shooters who needed a light rifle they can hike into the backcountry and still fit to their specifications. The Magpul PRS Lite was designed to give you the flexibility you need while cutting weight and cost. Designed for use on SR25, carbine and A5 buffer tubes for both AR-15 and AR .308 rifles, the Magpul PRS Lite stock is built to handle the worst you can throw at it, because they built it to meet military needs. The design is a full 10 ounces lighter than the GEN3 PRS stock, and it still gives you .8 inches of cheek-height adjustment, as well as 1.4 inches in length-of-pull adjustment. At the butt end of the stock is a rubber pad that can be fitted for height and cant, so you can create the perfect comfortable interface between you and your gun. You'll also find a number of other great additions to the Magpul PRS Lite stock, like the 1.25-inch footman's loop, a reversible QD sling-swivel cup and an additional spot for another QD sling-swivel cup. The stock can be had in black, flat dark earth or OD green, and it's made right here in the USA.

Safety Instruction Guide for AR15 PRS LITE BUTTSTOCK

Introduction

Thank you for choosing the Magpul AR15 PRS Lite Buttstock. This guide provides essential safety instructions to ensure the proper use and maintenance of your product. It is designed to comply with the EU General Product Safety Regulation (GPSR) to keep you and others safe while using this product.

General Safety Guidelines

- Ensure that the buttstock is properly installed on your firearm before use.
- Always handle firearms safely and responsibly, following all applicable laws and regulations.
- Regularly inspect the buttstock for any damage or wear before each use.
- Keep the buttstock and firearm out of reach of children and unauthorized users.
- Report any unsafe products or incidents to the appropriate authorities.
- Stay informed about product recalls by checking the EU's Safety Gate platform.

Specific Safety Precautions for Use

- Do not exceed the manufacturer's specifications for the buttstock.
- Ensure that the rubber pad is properly adjusted for height and cant to prevent slippage during use.
- Avoid using the buttstock in conditions that may compromise its integrity, such as extreme temperatures or exposure to corrosive substances.
- Use the buttstock only with compatible buffer tubes (SR25, carbine, and A5) designed for AR15 and AR .308 rifles.
- Always ensure that the buttstock is securely fastened before using the firearm.

Instructions for Installation and Usage

1. Installation:

- Ensure the firearm is unloaded and safe before starting the installation.
- Remove the existing buttstock from the buffer tube by following the manufacturer's instructions.
- Align the Magpul PRS Lite Buttstock with the buffer tube and slide it into place.
- Secure the buttstock according to the manufacturer's guidelines, ensuring it is tightly fastened.

2. Adjustment:

- Adjust the cheekheight by utilizing the provided adjustment mechanism to find a comfortable position.
- Adjust the length of pull by sliding the stock to the desired length and locking it in place.

3. Usage:

- When using the firearm, maintain a proper grip and stance to ensure stability.
- Regularly check the adjustments made to the buttstock during use to ensure they remain secure.

Disposal Instructions

- Dispose of the buttstock in accordance with local regulations regarding plastic and polymer materials.
- If the product is damaged or no longer usable, consider recycling options where available.
