A Stabilizing Brace for Your MP5-Pattern PCCs

Magpul has gone beyond the AR brace market with its MP BSL Arm Brace, a design that's built to aid in single-handed deployment of the many MP5-style clones on the market. This durable, lightweight design has been molded from polymer and incorporates a tool-free adjustment system that's easy and intuitive for you to manage. There's an integrated QD sling-attachment point, and the enlarged surface of the brace adds more surface for forearm contact during single-handed firing, so you can obtain greater stability. Each Magpul MP BSL Arm Brace includes an M-LOK slot to add more sling mounts, if needed. The brace is compatible with HK94 and MP5 pattern pistols, and it will not work on the HK91, HK93, SP89, SP5K or MP5K pattern guns.
