REMINGTON 870/1100/1187 Blued Shotgun Magazine Extension Safety Instructions

Introduction

Thank you for purchasing the REMINGTON 870/1100/1187 Blued Shotgun Magazine Extension by Choate. This product is designed to enhance the capacity of your shotgun while ensuring safe and effective use. Please read this safety instruction guide carefully to understand how to use and maintain this product safely in compliance with the EU General Product Safety Regulation (GPSR).

General Safety Guidelines

- Ensure safe use of the magazine extension by following all instructions provided.
- Be aware of and mitigate risks associated with the use of firearms and accessories.
- Check for any recalls or safety updates related to this product on the EU's Safety Gate platform.
- Use this product only with compatible models: Remington 870, 1100, and 1187.
- Store the magazine extension and shotgun in a secure location, out of reach of children and unauthorized users.
- Always treat firearms as if they are loaded, even when they are not.

Specific Safety Precautions for Use

- Always wear appropriate eye protection when handling firearms.
- Never point the firearm at anything you do not intend to shoot.
- Ensure the shotgun is unloaded before installing or removing the magazine extension.
- Do not exceed the recommended capacity of the magazine extension (4 rounds).
- Be aware that modifications are required for the 1187 model to ensure proper functioning.
- Inspect the magazine extension, spring, and follower regularly for wear or damage.
- If you notice any irregularities during use, stop using the product immediately and consult a qualified gunsmith.

Instructions for Installation and Usage

1. Installation

- Ensure the shotgun is unloaded.
- Remove the existing magazine cap from the shotgun.
- Slide the magazine extension onto the magazine tube until it is fully seated.
- Install the included extended spring and follower into the magazine extension.
- Secure the magazine extension in place with the swivel clamp provided.
- Ensure that the sling swivel clamp is tightened properly to avoid any movement during use.

2. Usage

- Load the magazine extension with up to 4 rounds of 12gauge ammunition.
- Always check the compatibility of your ammunition with the shotgun model.
- When ready to fire, ensure that you are in a safe environment and follow all standard firearm safety protocols.
- After use, unload the shotgun completely before storing or performing any maintenance.

Disposal Instructions

- Dispose of the magazine extension and any associated components in accordance with local regulations.
- Do not dispose of the product in household waste.
- Contact your local waste management authority for guidance on proper disposal methods.

Contact Information for Further Support

For any safety inquiries or additional support regarding the REMINGTON 870/1100/1187 Blued Shotgun Magazine Extension, please refer to the manufacturer's contact methods available on the product packaging or website.

Thank you for your attention to these safety instructions. Your adherence to these guidelines will help ensure a safe and enjoyable experience with your shotgun and its accessories.
