Thanks to the advent of M-LOK attachment points, AR owners can have a handguard that's customized to meet their needs, and manufacturers are offering all kinds of add-ons and accessories that aid in customization. CMC Triggers joins the fray with its M-LOK Quick Detach Sling Mount, which provides a forward attachment point for today's popular push-button quick-detach slings. Each CMC Triggers M-LOK Quick Detach Sling Mount can be added to any standard M-LOK slot without modification, and all the mounting hardware needed to add the mount is included. The mounting hardware is machined from anodized aluminum and features an anti-rotation design that won't allow the swivel to spin in place. Each mount is made in the USA and weighs only half an ounce.
