Fully Adjustable Spring System Cushions Your Shoulder

Firmly secures GraCoil, Graco Adjustable Butt Plates, recoil pads, or other butt plate hardware while cutting and grinding to proper size and contours. Unique design lets you remove most of the excess material quickly with a band saw, while preventing damage to the part caused by excessive heat buildup from prolonged grinding. Allows you to set the correct heel and toe angles of butt pads and hold them while grinding. Multiple screw holes in the mounting plates provide compatibility almost all types of hardware and recoil pads.
