The Berger 270 Caliber 140 grain Classic Hunting bullets are specially designed to conform to SAAMI industry dimensional standards. This bullet line is designed to feed through the magazine of factory rifles while still retaining the bearing surface of the bullet forward of the neck. They feature the popular Berger Hybrid bullet design that makes them less sensitive to seating depth, while maintaining the highest possible ballistic coefficient. Purpose made bullets for more common hunting methods which includes shooting game at close to medium ranges in factory rifles. Make the most out of your next hunt with these bullets from Berger.
