Weighing the same as a half slice of bread, IceVents Classic are the most advanced padding ever created. The hexagonal honeycomb matrix disperses loads up to 5,000 pounds through a network of cellular walls that also provide omni-directional venting. IceVents Classic' hydrophobic, anti-microbial construction is nearly indestructible - built to take the punishment of the most demanding user in the least forgiving environments. No padding on the market even comes close. Your hips will thank you.

- 48" roll of Back2Back Hook/Loop Tape (black)

Specs:

Versatile + Compatible

IceVents Classic 3-Pack can be used for Duty Belts, Tool Belts, or countless other industrial or tactical equipment to deliver unrivaled end-user comfort. Their modular and flexible form makes it simple to adapt IceVents Classic to support your application.

Water Resistant + Anti-Microbial

IceVents Classic unique channel ventilation creates an effective microclimate for long-term comfort and enhanced endurance.

High Tech Materials

IceVents Classic feature exclusive and proprietary Supracor Stimulite impact-absorbing hexagonal honeycomb thermoplastic elastomer (TPE) technology. Stimulite is used and proven in the F/A-18 Hornet, V-22 Osprey, 787 Dreamliner, 747-8 Intercontinental and leading medical products.

Simple Installation

Hook and Loop accessories enable simple, custom installation.

Increased Load Bearing Capacity

Loads are absorbed and dispersed evenly throughout the honeycomb matrix of IceVents Classic. Because the cells are interconnected, when one cell buckles from impact, the walls of the adjacent cells also buckle to absorb the force, similar to a ripple effect. The fusion-bonded honeycomb in Stimulite absorbs shock in this manner and also has phenomenal load-bearing and load-balancing capability as a result of its elastomeric composition.
