Safety Instructions

Introduction

Thank you for choosing the Rossi 92 95 Citadel Butt Stock Takedown Screws. This product is designed to enhance the functionality and portability of your leveraction rifle. Please read this safety instruction guide carefully to ensure safe and effective use of the product.

General Safety Guidelines

- Ensure that the product is used only for its intended purpose.
- Always handle firearms and accessories with care and follow proper safety protocols.
- Keep the product out of reach of children and unauthorized users.
- Regularly inspect the product for any signs of wear or damage before use.
- If you experience any issues or concerns with the product, cease use immediately and seek assistance.

Specific Safety Precautions for Use

- Always ensure the firearm is unloaded before installing or removing the butt stock.
- Use only the recommended tools for installation to avoid damaging the product.
- Do not overtighten screws, as this may compromise the integrity of the connection.
- Be cautious of sharp edges when handling the screws.
- If using a coin to unscrew, ensure it is free of debris to prevent injury or damage.

Instructions for Installation and Usage

1. Preparation:

- Ensure the firearm is unloaded and pointed in a safe direction.
- Gather the necessary tools: a coin or flathead screwdriver.

2. Installation:

- Locate the existing butt stock screw on your Rossi 92 / 95 or Citadel rifle.
- Using the coin or flathead screwdriver, gently unscrew the existing screw counterclockwise.
- Remove the old screw and set it aside for disposal if necessary.
- Take the new Rossi Butt Stock Takedown Screw and align it with the hole.
- Use the coin or screwdriver to screw it in clockwise until snug, but do not overtighten.

3. Usage:

- To detach the butt stock, use the coin or screwdriver to unscrew the takedown screw counterclockwise.
- Store the butt stock in a safe location when not in use.
- Always ensure the firearm is unloaded before making any adjustments.

Disposal Instructions

- Dispose of any old screws or parts in accordance with local regulations.
- Do not dispose of the product in regular household waste. Check for local recycling programs that accept metal components.
