The GTS Tripod Organizer is designed for shooters who rely on their tripod as more than just a support system. In competition and in the field, it quickly becomes the center of your setup and keeping that setup organized makes a real difference.

Mounted securely between the tripod legs, the organizer creates a stable and accessible platform for your essential gear. It keeps ballistic tools, magazines, wind meters, pens, and small accessories off the ground and exactly where you need them. Whether you're updating DOPE, checking wind data, or preparing for the next stage, everything stays structured and within reach.

The interior is fully lined with hook-and-loop material, allowing you to configure the layout to match your workflow. Pouches and accessories can be positioned securely and adjusted as your setup evolves. The heavy-duty fabric construction is built to handle regular range use and demanding outdoor conditions without adding unnecessary bulk.

A robust strap system ensures compatibility with virtually any tripod. Once mounted, the organizer remains stable and balanced. For movement between stages or positions, the integrated closure system keeps contents secure, so your gear stays in place while you transition.

Additional modular attachment options on the exterior allow further customization depending on your application, from PRS competition to hunting or professional field work.

The GTS Tripod Organizer is available in Flecktarn and Stone Grey Olive, allowing you to match your setup to your environment and equipment.

A cleaner setup. A smoother workflow. More focus on the shot.
